Fine print: We know that sometimes you can't make it to every show, but you still want us to be making amazing art on the edge of opera. Sometimes art needs to be planned well in advance, and other times it has to happen in an incredible rush. We want to keep depth and spontaneity in our program, so we aren't telling you everything we're going to do all at once. We are pretty sure you like surprises. Keyholders will get advance notice of our forthcoming Living Room Operas by email. Bookings by the RSVP date are essential to guarantee your place. This also applies to our special Keyholder events and functions, dinners, artist talks and all other invitations. Additional 'bring-a-friend' tickets must also be booked in advance. We will do everything we can to accommodate your choice, however 'bring-a-friend' places are subject to availability. For the Master Keyholder, details and arrangements for the Living Room Opera performances will be negotiated. We may also be able offer payments by instalments - contact our office to discuss payment options. Please note that keys are not refundable and are valid from 1 January to 31 December 2012, and can be used for any of our Living Room Operas anywhere in the world (airfares not included). Prices include GST.
